

Dr Ray Randle
Australia

Dr Ray Randle graduated his M.B.,B.S. (Hon) from University of New South Wales, Australia in 1978, and completed his fellow Royal Australasian College of Surgeons in 1985. Currently he is working in John Flynn Hospital, TugunQld, Australia. He developed a new primary and revision hip stem, the PFM, instruments for the Apollo Total Knee replacement, the Revitan primary hip replacement stem and first instrument system capable of arthroscopic insertion of a uni-compartmental knee replacement. He is the Design surgeon PFC Sigma Partial knee prosthesis - Johnson & Johnson/DePuy, Attune Total Knee replacement prostheses – Johnson & Johnson/DePuy and Taperloc complete hip stem – Biomet. He has various national and international publications to his credit.